

Lappset Toro

Interactive sports arena

Why settle for a traditional rectangular sports arena with just two goals? Meet Toro, the interactive sports arena that breaks the mold. Toro's vibrant design, featuring sloping corners and four interactive goals per side, ensures constant ball contact and immersive gameplay. Developed with Olympic gold-medal coach Marc Lammers, Toro delivers fast-paced action, strategic play, and reactive challenges.

1. Dynamic Playset Design

With four interactive goals placed along the sides of the sports arena, Toro encourages players to run freely, think tactically, and stay in constant motion, fostering a dynamic and engaging play environment. The unique placement of the goals promotes spatial awareness, pushing players to adapt their strategies on the fly. This setup ensures continuous action and excitement, keeping every participant actively involved throughout the game.

2. Adaptability and Learning

Players and athletes quickly adapt to new circumstances and have fun with a variety of games offered by Toro, enhancing skills in precision, tactics, fitness, reaction, and creativity. For instance, you can play Goal Switch, where you have to defend a colour. After a goal is made, the position of the goal you are defending changes, requiring players to quickly adjust their tactics to anticipate the new defensive position and outmaneuver opponents.

3. Developed for the outdoor area

Our interactive playground equipment is designed with one main goal: to give our customers peace of mind. We frequently receive questions about our products' durability against vandalism, the maintenance they need, and their suitability for harsh weather conditions. We've carefully crafted our products to exceed your expectations.

Examples of games

4Play

The four corners of each goal represent a point. A point is lost when the goal is hit. If all points are lost, the team's goal of that color disappears.

Goal Play

Multiple teams start on the field, and after a goal, the scoring team switches with a waiting team.

Bottle Shot

Each goal starts with the same amount of energy. When a goal is hit, the energy level will slowly drop.

Red vs Green

Conquer all goals by changing them to your color. Hit a goal to change its color.

Toro creates interaction

Toro offers an engaging gaming experience with its vibrant multipurpose playground. Its compact size and sloping corners create an environment where individuals of all ages can enjoy continuous ball contact and active involvement. With four interactive goals along the sides, players are encouraged to run freely, think tactically, and stay in motion, stimulating creative play and fostering interaction as they devise strategies.

Players and athletes learn to adapt quickly to new circumstances – and have a lot of fun with different games. The Toro is great in;

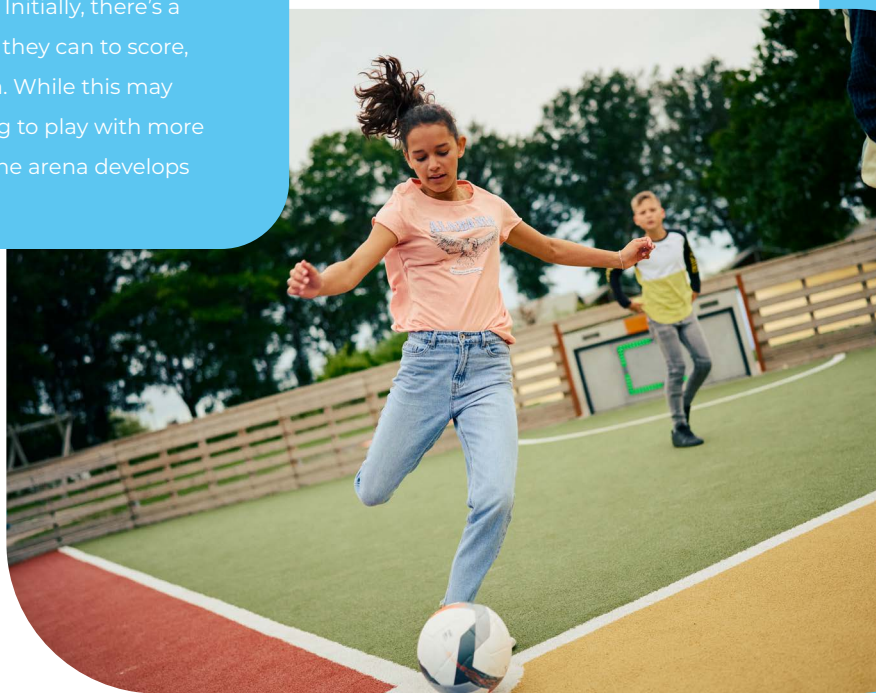

- Single or multiplayer mode
- Including everyone to play
- Competing against time
- Precision, tactics, fitness, reaction, and creativity

Did you know that

We designed the boarding to be intentionally low. Initially, there's a learning curve where players often kick as hard as they can to score, but this causes the ball to bounce out of the arena. While this may seem inconvenient at first, it's purposeful. Learning to play with more controlled, low kicks and keeping the ball within the arena develops better ball control and tactical skills!
